

Jason And Mason

Jason and Mason are two almost identical twins. They have very different personalities. Jason Likes video games and loves Orange soda so much that he goes crazy for it. He is also used as a lab rat for some of Mason's experiments. Mason likes science and he is an inventor and his nickname is kid professor. He has a huge IQ and he has his own Laboratory. Mason is so into science that he joined a program that allows him to be the smartest person in the world. Jason and Mason attend the Gruzzard Institute where they learn and get an education in science and technology. Mason constructed robots for the Gruzzard Institute intended on making the world a much better place. The world would be better with these robots or so it may seem. This is where the story begins.

It is a fine day and Mason heads off to the institute that he goes to. Mason gets to his workspace and turns on his computer and he is seated next to his rival, Keith. Keith said, "What kind of revolting invention have you come up with now?" Mason said, "My new Knight battle suit is far superior to yours." Keith said, "I am so sure of that. You know I have always been the better one." Mason said, "Not that I care." Keith said, "My father thinks different." Mason said, "You father is a swell man and I don't think he would choose favorites like that." There is an announcement from the leader of the institute, Dr. Gruzzard. He says, "The Gruzzard Institute is going to let all of the students and people that work here finally after so many years get to do what we have been waiting for. Travel all over the world advertising about what the people who learn and work here can do and then become very famous." Mason knows this is his opportunity to become the famous person that he always wanted to be. Dr. Gruzzard said, "The first stop is going to be in Tokyo Japan and you are supposed to bring a friend along with you to share the experience." Mason knows exactly who to take and it is his twin brother Jason. He knows that this is going to be perfect. The next day, Jason and Mason arrive at the airport with all of their stuff and they see Dr.Gruzzard's son Keith is there. Keith is the guy that sits beside Mason at the institute. Keith has despised Mason's inventions. They all enter on the plane headed for Japan.

They end up in Japan and they go to a factory that almost every computer in the world is made in. Not just that but there are hundreds of thousands of walking talking robots that work there. Also, on the biggest TV in Tokyo Mason gets to present a speech that he wrote about why we should work with these new machines that he is building and what impact will it make on his life. After all of the people that worked for that institute present their speeches, Dr.Gruzzard said, "Thanks to the help of all of my people, we have installed a new chip in most electronics that almost everyone uses in a daily life and they have even been installed in the robots to make them work faster and consume less energy. Also, we have built machines to make drinks faster." One robot that Mason built makes a glass of orange soda and hands it to Jason. Dr. Gruzzard said, "This is all possible because of the chip created by me, Dr. Gruzzard." Dr.Gruzzard is becoming very famous because of the institute that he established. Also because of the chip that he built.

The next country that they go to is the United Kingdom. Just like what they did in Japan they present their speeches on a big TV and demonstrate the chip in action. After all of that, everyone in Great Britain goes crazy for the new technology. Even the Queen uses this new technology. Then Dr.Gruzzard shows to the whole world building the first strong robot built for war in Sydney Australia. After all of the places around the world, the final place they go to is, New York City. After everything that has happened there, Dr.Gruzzard is now the most famous person in the world. Jason and Mason return to their home. Back at their home something strange happens to their TV and now they are not getting any signals. Mason says, "Jason, Come over here!" Jason comes running up and he says, "Yes what do you want Mason?" Mason said, "Jason our TV is not receiving any signals so I need you to put this antenna suit on and position yourself until we get some TV signals." Jason puts the suit on and he does some funny poses. After a while Jason has one of his arms in the air with the hand wiggling and one of his legs up on the side of the other and his other arm making a fist against his hip. Mason said, "Ok Jason I am receiving a ton of TV channels now so just stay in that position!" A few minutes later, Jason walks up and takes the suit off and sits beside Mason. Mason then sees that because Jason left that area he now only gets one channel. Luckily for him it is his favorite channel, The Endeavor Network. Jason is watching with him and he says, "Do we have anything better to watch? This is boring." But then the screen goes black and they say on TV, "We interrupt this program for an important news bulletin. A federal bank here in this town is being robbed. It is being robbed by a bunch of robots. The ones that were built by a new scientist that lives in this town known only as, Mason. Mason most likely built these robots to rob the bank and get all the gold from the bank so he can be rich and powerful. The police are looking for Mason and when they find him he will be placed under arrest. I am George Ferrier of DDD News which is America's most trusted news channel." Mason right now is thinking, "Oh crap if they catch me..." Jason says, "Chillax, put on this hat and fake mustache and this suit and bingo you are now John McFidelypants."

The next day Jason goes out to the store to get another pack of orange soda when the SWAT team approaches him and a SWAT cop that is Samuel L Jackson said, "You are under arrest for the heist at the federal bank yesterday!" Jason said, "That was not me those were robots built by the institute my twin brother goes too and I go there during the school year because I am not a nerd." Jackson said, "A twin brother? Ya very funny, we're taking you to jail. The new governor will decide your fate." Later, Jason sees the new governor and it is, Dr.Gruzzard. Dr.Gruzzard says, "Hah, Mason, did you really think that dyeing your hair from a Brunet to a blonde can fool me? We will send you to the new detention center we built. It is for extremely bad criminals in New Zealand. "The next day it is advertised on TV that they are going to send Jason to a prison in New Zealand. Mason immediately knows this is Jason and he puts on the costume and he changes the way his voice sounds and the way he acts. He heads over to the dock. He brings this new weapon that he built which is called a stun saber. He sees the boat and he sees them take Jason on. Mason runs over to the entrance of the boat and there is one guard there. The guard said to him, "Before you can get on this boat, I need to see your Boarding Pass." Mason said back to him, "I don't have a Boarding Pass." The guard said, "Well then, you aren't getting on you defiant punk." Mason said while he takes out his stun saber, "Will this make me get on?" Then the guard's eyes pop out and come back in and he runs away in fear and Mason enters the ship.

The guard comes back to the post with his boss and said, "Some crazy Scottish man came here and threatened me with some magic light saber and wanted to kill me." His boss said. "Have you been staying up late reading more crappy comics again?" The boat sails away and Mason is wandering the boat. Halfway there to New Zealand, Mason hears a familiar voice say, "Hello there, Mr. McFidelypants." Mason looks at a locked cell and Jason is in it. Mason said, "Jason I was worried about you. The boat is currently headed for New Zealand." Jason said, "I Can't believe that Dr. Gruzzard is the new governor of California and he even has a new base in New Zealand. Come on, how more famous could that guy get?" Mason says, "This must be some kind of mistake. Don't worry when we get back to America we will find Dr. Gruzzard and tell him the truth that we are twins and that those robots must have some kind of flaw with them. Dr. Gruzzard is a reasonable understanding man he should understand the truth."

When they arrive in New Zealand a ton of robots made by the Gruzzard Institute with lasers come in and start attacking Jason and Mason. Mason reaches in his coat and takes out his stun saber and he has another one and he throws it to Jason and then they start fighting through the waves and legions of robots. Eventually two really huge robots pick up Jason and Mason and knock them out and they bring Jason and Mason to the prison. Mason wakes up at the prison nine hours later. He sees on the TV that Dr. Gruzzard now owns the country of New Zealand. Mason is stuck behind bars and a robot comes in and lets him out for breakfast. Mason kicks the robot and destroys him setting off an alarm and security people and robots are after him. The whole place is under lock down. Mason gets cornered at a dead end and he sees that war machine that Dr. Gruzzard built in Australia. The War Machine picks up Mason and said, "This is going to be the last sound you will ever hear." Then the war machine does a super powerful punch to Mason and Mason goes flying through the roof of the prison and ends up far away.

Jason wakes up two hours after all of this happened to Mason. But Jason is not in prison. He is lying down on a long table in some kind of stadium. A giant laser appears burning the table in half starting at the far end of the table working its way up to Jason's crotch. The Laser is going to burn Jason in half. Jason tries to move but there are metal cuffs on all of his arms and legs and he cannot move. But he is able to slide one of his legs through one of the metal cuffs. One of his feet go off the table he is on and he kicks his shoe off and it hits the laser and it malfunctions and it falls off the ceiling and crashes on the machine keeping Jason locked in and Jason is free from that. Jason runs away from that room and he finds an opened door and runs out onto the street.

Meanwhile in the prison, a few guards run out of that and they see Jason running away so they chase after him. Jason sees the guards after him so he runs into a nearby grocery store. The guards look around the grocery store. They walk past the ice cream section and Jason is hiding in the freezer. The guards walk past but then they come back to look in there and Jason is not in it. They see that Jason escaped it and he is running away. The guards chase him to a huge stack of cereal boxes. Jason kicks them down and the cereal boxes are on the floor and the guards trip on them slowing them down. Everyone in the store hears on the intercom, "CLEAN UP IN THE BACK OF THE STORE!" The guards corner Jason close to where the tissue boxes are. Jason needs to blow his nose so he opens one of them and he blows his nose on a tissue. He grabs onto the box of tissues the guards get close to him and they said, "All right now. You broke several laws plus you destroyed a grocery store." Then Jason takes out one of the tissues and said with a funny voice, "So you have an issue why not you just take a tissue?" Jason throws tissues at one of the guards but it does nothing so he takes out more and keeps saying, "Have an issue take a tissue, have an issue take a tissue..." Then he sees that one of the guards has his legs split far apart so Jason is thin enough to slide under the guards legs and that is exactly what he does. Jason runs out of the grocery store and back onto the street. Jason runs across the street to an abandon apartment building and of course the guards chase him there. Jason runs up to the top floor of the building and jumps off the building landing in a laundry truck. The guards then lose Jason.

Meanwhile Jason is in the truck and he looks through a hole and can see outside. The truck stops at a gas station that is located beside the prison. Jason sees a police truck. The back door opens and a SWAT member comes out with Mason and he is handcuffed. Jason takes some of the clothes from the laundry truck and puts them on and he makes himself look like an old woman. He sees on the sidewalk an urn that is filled with dust. Jason sneaks up to it and snatches it and takes it inside of the jail. Inside the jail, he sneaks past all of the guards and makes his way to the cell Mason is in. It is unlocked because a person from the institute is there. Jason runs in making his voice sound like an old lady. He walks in and said, "Ah I am just looking for a place to keep my husband since he died unfortunately and his ashes are here in this urn." The guard said, "Look sir, this is a prison not a funeral home now get out of here." Jason said, "It is ma'am. Once again it is ma'am! I will show you a sir!" Jason turns around and pretends to cry and throws all of the dust in the guard's eyes. The guard is blinded and Jason takes off part of his disguise. Mason said, "Jason, I knew you would get me out of here." Jason and Mason run out of the prison and they fight their way through the guards and security systems and finally escape the prison.

Then Mason says, "Jason, we must find a boat or a plane for us to get back home where we can find Dr.Gruzzard and report to him the problem. I am sure that he will understand." Then Jason says, " We might have a problem with that because all of the police in New Zealand are looking for us it will be very hard to get back unnoticed." Then they go to the docks and they look around to see if they can find a way to get past the guards. Jason says, "I've got an idea." Jason tells Mason his idea and Mason knows that this could help them get back to their home. Jason dresses up as that old woman again and walks up to the guards and says, "I've walked all day and my back hurts and I really need a boat back home." The guards say to who they think is an old woman, "This cruise boat is going to San Francisco California. Is that where you want to go?" Jason said, "Yes." Then the guards say, "Alright then right this way sir." Jason said, "It is ma'am but I will let it go this time." Jason goes on board and there are a ton of other people on board. A few minutes later, the boat takes off heading towards California. Jason realizes that this boat is not very powerful. It will take about a week before they make it back to California. Jason gets to the room on the boat that he will stay in he takes the first part of his suit off and it falls right off and Mason is hiding in it. Jason turns on the TV that is in their room and everything that is on TV is stuff about Dr. Gruzzard.

On TV, Dr. Gruzzard is presenting a speech about his goal to help make the world a better place. He also talks about all of the countries that he now owns. All of those countries are, New Zealand, China, Cuba, Australia, Congo, Colombia, Chile, Nigeria, Portugal, Ireland, Spain, Italy and Finland. Dr. Gruzzard said, "I will protect these countries using my defense forces which will defeat that treacherous, Mason." It is night time the twins are ready to go to bed and the door to their room opens up and Dr. Gruzzard's guard walks in and said, "Mason, you are under arrest and you are wanted all over the world. I see that you have built a clone of yourself to fool us but it will not work." Jason sees a big window in their room and a chest. Jason picks up the chest and throws it at the guards and he kicks the window and the glass breaks everywhere and Jason and Mason jump out of the broken window. They then go onto the outside deck and see that there are guards everywhere. Jason runs through all of the guards and he finds some tools for repairing damages on the boat. A guard runs up to him and Jason throws a metal tool at the guard and he falls off the boat and into the water. The boat's PA system goes off and says, "Everybody that is on this boat remain calm there are two dangerous criminals on this boat. The guards will catch them in time. Everybody stay in your room and remain calm." More guards keep running up to Jason and he keeps throwing tools at them and knocking them into the water. Guards come after Mason and Mason does not have anything made out of metal like tools. Mason has a pen that is leaking out in one of his pockets he put a tissue on it so it will not ruin his pocket but he takes out the pen and it leaks ink all over the deck of the boat and all of the guards close by run up to Mason but all of the ones that did slip and fall off the boat and into the water. Jason and Mason are both using ways of getting rid of the guards. All of the guards are gone and the PA system said, "The guards are not powerful enough to stop the criminals. Everybody evacuate the ship now repeat evacuate the ship now!" Everybody leaves the ship and Jason and Mason are left alone luckily for them the ship has plenty of power and plenty of food and drinks so they can get back to California without a problem.

Six days later, they get back to California and everything there is a mess. The sky is red from pollution that is coming out of those large smoke stacks from all of the new factories that are built by Dr. Gruzzard's men. Jason and Mason run over to the lab and the streets of San Francisco are in ruins and there are crazy defective robots that were built by Mason rampaging through the streets. Jason and Mason go back to the lab and the lab is perfectly alright. Mason is looking at all of his experiments and inventions. Mason says to Jason, "Jason, we will be needing a lot of battle armor and all the weapons that we have to destroy every last evil robot in the world especially the war machine. But first we need to find Dr. Gruzzard and tell him that the world is in great danger and I am not the one that is doing all of this evil stuff." Jason and Mason grab some weapons and Jason sees a strange looking pill he then asks Mason, "What is this?" Mason says, "It is a power pill. If you swallow it, it could give you super powers. You should try it Jason. It might not work but think about it if it does work. It will come in very handy and plus we will both be heroes." Jason swallows the pill and he says, "I don't feel any different." He tries lifting up heavy stuff and he even tries flying but none of that stuff works. Then Mason says, "Oh well, I told you that it might not work but that does not matter because look we have all of these cool gadgets and weapons." Jason and Mason run out onto the street where evil dangerous robots attack but Jason and Mason have a ton of weapons so they just destroy the robots while on their way to where they think Dr. Gruzzard is. Which is a giant office building with Dr. Gruzzard's logo on the top of it.

They get into the giant building and the first thing that they see is a secretary sitting down and typing on a computer. Jason and Mason walk up to her and Mason says, "We are here to talk to Dr.Gruzzard and this is an emergency I am Mason a person that used to work for the institute that he started before he became very famous." Then she says, "Mason you are number one on Dr.Gruzzard's most wanted list. You may take this elevator up to the top floor as he is expecting you." Jason and Mason ride up the elevator to the top floor. They make it to the top floor and they see Dr.Gruzzard sitting in his new chair that can hover around. He turns around and looks at Jason and Mason and he says, "So you have come. This is a terrible mistake." Mason says, "Now you are talking. Everybody except my twin thinks I am evil because robots that I built are taking over the world. I really need your help Dr.Gruzzard. We have all of these weapons that could help take out these evil robots." Dr.Gruzzard says, "You have said enough Mason. See all of these people that you see working in this building and all of my factories are people that have worked for me. You are one of those people that have worked for me. How come you have not joined me in my global conquest? You are one of the greatest people that worked for me. You are definitely one of the smartest. Don't worry you are not a criminal. You just have not joined me yet. If you join me and your brother can join me too and together we can rule the world have order over everyone and make things the way we want them to be. Mason, you were like a son to me and you are far superior to my son, Keith. I know Keith troubles you a lot but join me we can defeat him and no one will ever stand in the way of your plans ever again." Mason says, "Your world conquest? Everything that you have been saying sounds like an evil plot of a criminal master mind. I am never going to join you on your quest to take over the world. Let me take another guess. You are the one that made those robots go berserk and blame it on me all this time you set up this institute so you can make anyone that joins evil. You probably don't care about your son. If you really did care then you would not be encouraging me to destroy him. You are the worst father anyone could have. I can't believe I was fooled by you. You probably don't care about anyone. All you care about is your goal of taking over the world and that will not happen. Jason attack!"

Jason and Mason jump up to Dr. Gruzzard and attempt to take him down but then he claps and he said, "Cylax! [the name that he gave to the war machine that he built in Australia] destroy Jason and Mason!" Dr.Gruzzard disappears and Jason and Mason are left fighting Cylax. Jason says, "Alright, Cylax, you can't scare me with both of our weapons we are sure to win." Cylax picks up Jason and he says, "Now Jason, you have interfered with my master's plans for the last time." Jason starts shooting him with the plasma ball blaster that Mason built but the shots just keep reflecting off him and he throws Jason and he goes flying through the wall and Mason does not see where Jason is. Mason takes advantage of all of the gadgets and weapons that he has. Cylax is just too strong for him. Cylax makes Mason waste all of his ammo up and Cylax is very big and fast and he is built with some strange material. Mason is left only to be beaten and he hears a big boom and he sees Jason as a super hero enter the scene. Mason said, "Yeah, Jason! So that pill that you took earlier worked after all but just not right away." Then Jason goes to Cylax and he picks Cylax up and flips Cylax around and smashes his head into the ground and Jason rips one of Cylax's arms off and starts to beat up Cylax with Cylax's own arm. Jason goes inside of him and then Cylax blows up into pieces. Jason then lands on the ground and Mason says, "Wow, Jason you are the best super hero ever. I even like your costume." Jason says, "My name while I am a super hero is Atomic Jason."

Atomic Jason and Mason explore the large building when Mason notices a room that indicates it is a room where they keep stuff that people have made over the years. Mason goes into it and he sees a lot of ammo cartridges so he can refill his guns and Mason finds one of the best things that he ever built, the Knight suit. It is a suit that you put on and you have really strong armor and a really powerful laser sword. Mason puts it on and he is pretty much invincible. He sees another door. He opens it up and he sees Keith in there and then the door behind Mason closes and locks. Keith says, "So you have come Mason. This will be the battle to see who really is the intelligent one." Mason says, "Keith you can't live a life like this. Your father is evil he wants to take over the world and he does not even care at all about you." Then Keith says, "Oh yes he does you see, ever since he started the institute, I have worked for him. I am loyal to him. I knew that he was evil right from the start." Keith has a remote and he presses a button on it and Keith has a suit exactly like Mason and he even has a laser sword like him. Mason and Keith cross swords and they start fighting.

They are both fight and duel their swords. They are fighting fast and very rapid. They stop fighting because they hear the floor rumbling and the PA system in the building says, "The building is now officially complete it will now fly up to Dr.Gruzzard's new base in the sky." The building is launched like a rocket and it zips into the sky. Keith sees a window in the background that Mason is standing in front of. Keith does a super attack and knocks Mason out the window so he will keep on falling. Keith sees that Mason falls out the window and now he is back up here. Atomic Jason is outside and he brings Mason up. Atomic Jason enters into the battle and he says, "Mason, I know Keith is your rival, but you must let me handle him." Keith says, "Yah what is your idiotic brother in a stupid Halloween costume going to do to me?" Atomic Jason starts beating the crap out of Keith and destroys his suit. Keith stands back and says, "I guess I underestimated you." Atomic Jason says, "You sure have." Atomic Jason reaches both of his arms behind Keith and he pulls Keith's underwear over Keith's head. Atomic Jason spins Keith around and Keith could not see of course because his underwear is over his head. Keith is very dizzy and Atomic Jason kicks Keith out of that same broken window.

Mason says, "Yeah, Atomic Jason! You rule. You helped me beat my arch rival I have been fighting against for years now but with you around, Keith will never attempt beating me." The ship disguised as a building lands on a cloud. Mason looks outside and sees that people can walk on this cloud and there is a big sign that says, "Welcome to Gruzzardville." Atomic Jason and Mason walk out of the ship and onto the cloud and someone screams, "Everybody it's Jason and Mason attack!" Jason and Mason are really strong and powerful. They beat all of Dr. Gruzzard's men and robots down very easy. They run down the streets of the city that is on a cloud and they see a building that looks exactly like the institute that they were in back in New Zealand. Atomic Jason and Mason with the powerful knight suit and sword run into the building and more guards run after them.

Jason and Mason fight off the guards and run through the maze of the building just like what they did in New Zealand. They run into a computer room and they see videos from all over the world of robots built by Mason causing havoc and now they know that this is the work of Dr. Gruzzard. A news report from London England shows robots all over attacking the city and the reporter says, "We can't believe that people who work for Dr. Gruzzard would do such a thing. We need a hero to save the world from this insanity!" A robot takes down the news reporter. Jason and Mason know that they must find Dr. Gruzzard and put an end to his plans for world domination. They see the room they are in [which is a very big room] goes very dark and they hear a very familiar voice. "You have done well, Mason. You have done a lot but you are not quite a hero yet even though you are wearing an extremely powerful knight suit and you have your powered twin with you but that does not make you powerful enough to beat me." Then the person that is talking lights up but the room is still dark and Jason and Mason both say at the same time, "Dr. Gruzzard!"

Jason says, "Do not underestimate us. With both of our powers combined together and with the power of our brotherhood, we are together invincible." Dr. Gruzzard says, "Yeah that is what you think." Dr. Gruzzard presses a button on his suit and a ton of really powerful guns appear on him and he starts shooting them like crazy. Jason and Mason dodge his shoots. Jason says, "Mason I have an idea. Give me your sword." Mason hands to Jason his sword then Jason takes advantage of his super powers while holding Mason's sword. Jason zips up to Dr. Gruzzard and cuts one of his guns off. Dr. Gruzzard picks up Jason and he stops firing then Jason releases the sword and it falls over to where Mason is. Dr. Gruzzard says, "You really want to die don't you?" Then Mason picks up the sword and cuts more of Dr. Gruzzard's guns off. Then Dr. Gruzzard drops Jason and they start using all of their powerful attacks against him. Then Dr. Gruzzard does a back flip and pulls out a really huge sword much bigger than Mason's. Then Mason starts dueling with Dr. Gruzzard and Dr. Gruzzard can't shoot anything anymore because all of his guns are destroyed. Then because Jason does not have a sword he stands back and does not fight him, but he leaves Mason to do all of that.

While it is Mason vs Dr. Gruzzard Mason says, "I can't believe that all of this time you were evil and you trained all of those people with certain kinds of machinery and technology and all of this time, it was so you can use them to take over the world." Dr.Gruzzard says, "I thought you were loyal to me and if you were than you would have joined me we could have made the world a much better place." Jason is standing alongside and he picks up that TV they were watching earlier and starts running with it and he smashes it into Dr.Gruzzard. Then Dr.Gruzzard falls and Mason cuts the handle to his laser sword in half and Mason aims his sword at Dr.Gruzzard but then Dr.Gruzzard makes the suit he is wearing blow up and he falls through a hole in the floor. Jason and Mason look down the hole and they see something very strange so they jump down to check it out. They land on a strange platform and they see a large fan that is blowing down. There are a lot of these fans all blowing down. Mason notices a control panel and he looks at it and it says on it "Cloud controls." Mason looks through the computer that it is on and he then finds out that this is not a real cloud. It is a control base and on it are the controls for those robots. Jason and Mason could destroy this cloud and all of the robots will short circuit and the world will be saved. Mason sees the master chip Dr. Gruzzard made for the robots. Mason crushes it and destroys it in his hands. They hear Dr.Gruzzard's voice again this time and he is in a giant flying robot. Jason says, "Here, Mason I will hold onto you while I fly into Dr.Gruzzard and you cut him up." Mason says, "Sounds good." Jason picks up Mason and flies over to Dr.Gruzzard. Jason gets close to him and Mason hits him with his sword. Jason is left having to dodge all of Dr.Gruzzard's shots. After they have been fighting for a while Dr.Gruzzard grabs onto Mason and is about to destroy him and Jason goes over and punches the arm Mason is in and then Mason falls down. Jason is about to go and get him and Dr.Gruzzard grabs onto Jason's cape.

Dr. Gruzzard said, "You are not going to save him and you will let him fall to his death and then I am going to destroy you and then I will rule the world with no problems at all." Jason says, "Yeah that is what you think." Jason takes off his cape and zips down and Dr.Gruzzard says, "Hey where did you go?" Jason zips up and beats him up with all of his powerful attacks. Dr.Gruzzard says, "Alright Jason now is the time you die!" Jason zips away and says, "If you can catch me." Jason zips over to where the cloud base is and Dr.Gruzzard follows him there. Jason zips over the surface of it and Dr.Gruzzard is chasing him while Dr.Gruzzard in the big robot suit and he is destroying the cloud base. Dr.Gruzzard's big robot suit gets stuck in between two energy accelerators and Jason zips away and turns around to see what is going to happen. The cloud explodes and Dr.Gruzzard's robot suit gets destroyed as well. Jason zips into the explosion and rescues Dr.Gruzzard and zips him down to the ground. Jason lands by the lab and Mason is there and his knight suit is destroyed.

All of the robots malfunctioned because the control cloud has been destroyed. The police arrive and they take Dr.Gruzzard away and the mayor of San Francisco goes to Jason and Mason's house and in the backyard is where Mason's lab is. The mayor says, "Jason and Mason are the two heroes that have saved the world from the evil domination of Dr.Gruzzard. We are sorry that you, Mason were framed for the robots that you built going evil and it was not your fault." On TV, George Ferrier from DDD News is on and he says, "Dr.Gruzzard has been sent to federal prison for 30 years and he is forced to give all of those countries that he controlled back and California is free again and the heroes that saved the world are twin brothers Jason and Mason.”

After that, Jason and Mason are heroes and Mason builds something special for Jason. It is an electricity box and Mason said, "A revolutionary source of power and it runs off crystals and they last, 1000 years and when I work in my lab, power problems there and anywhere else will not have any effect on your power Jason. Watch TV play video games all you want, even in a blackout." Jason has unlimited power for the next millennium and Jason and Mason are heroes and our story draws to a close.
